

A new standard of technology

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

Compared with Roswell 13 and NASA, Majestic 12, we need a technology to ask for travel to the whole universe by starship.

This is a vision and new standard we are creating in any field of nation and region.

Any purpose is given by its plan, and we dare to realize them all.

As we may imagine, all new technological standards create industry and society by all determined by politics. We may ask for cooperation from the universe with its resident.

This is a new future and a complete requirement for all its use.

We may build a national plan and do its actions.

Since the standard asks for its realization and action may be according to its benchmark. That means we have all possibilities we can work.

We are asking for a declaration and determination for the future. This is a way we are making victory.

All-new standard is a recreation of all reality of the nation. That is all our effort we are trying.

As we see that army force may be built up under new measures and we see we may have a top presence.

Since space X is trying to go to mars, we are trying to travel the whole universe.