

Agreement of piece and abandon of wars

Kuroda International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

The agreement of world that we could seek piece and abandon of the wars. Wars only serve pain and suffers. We do have all history that was filled up with wars.

As we are facing futures that is concerned as new world. Out of wars as unification and piece of the world.

There is all conflict and confusion but all agreement may be came with piece. That must be all agreement of abandon of the wars.

These are the new world and new futures that we may seek all hopes to the world.

These world with agreement out of disappointment but may ask all futures. As waiting for all participation to universe. These are the new futures that is waiting for us all.

These allow that unification of the world as world government we could share the world and futures.

Then we can find all smiles and dreams of all children.
