

Build up a new nation connected to new ages

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

There is a future that we can find with new ages. Those are new growth to the world for all creating new reality.

To catch any information under agency and analyze all to run nation with its base. Moving to all reality to computer that new efficiency and all possibility that is required to build by own industry.

Own national security is all bases to build up nation. That all require under self-independence and production. Domestic demand and production are bases to settle society and nation.

There is all use with a new technology that gives all possibility to rebuild nation. That is bases with society 5.0 that is with new ages and futures.

Any data is hosted and ask use with any bases of reality. All technology with army and space technology works for new nation that is all with new political decision and plan.

That is with new standard what you have to work for. This new age is all reality with now growth as we can see as New society.

Technology give new society and lives with new system that all government and region is needed to reconstruct own environment.

Domestic production is all with own national security that is as foreign affair and army to make any relations with the world. That is as own capitals require to ask and run nation self.