

Conflict of civilizations

The world shares the foundations that the West considered in its history in modern science, sociology, and anthropology in the West. These seek the future, along with the absolute justice of liberalism.

The Orient completely lost the formation of a nation based on its own rules against the overwhelming national power of its Western camp. These are because they could not solve the reality of pursuit of profit and vice against their possession of justice.

The great difference between civilizations makes us expect the conflict. These are because, on the other hand, the conflict of civilizations, along with the final war, gives the construction of reality to the world having World War III.

The reality of computers today and the new reality of the Space Age make us predict that change in the future.

The top presence in the world is the cutting edge of the United States. Equal confrontation with these is the only possible equality with reality.

These are the truths that there is a battle for the future. These are the facts that the reality of power politics was the only battle, where there are winners and losers.

These are difficult understandings in the CIA's mind control depriving them of understanding, but the winner has the world in all history.

The only possibility is that the Orient has a self in its roots and confronts them with the construction of self-reality. These give a total conflict in civilization. On the other hand, there is only a enslaved self.

Equality is the only condition, and enslavement is nothing more than a tool. It is 180 ° different from acting as an agent of the CIA, being an equal self in these worlds.
