

Cooperation in unification of all Asia and space development

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

The unification of all Asia presents a new idea to the world against the New World Order and builds a self-presence to the world. The closure of the market will lead to the construction of a self-society and the development of industry.

Together with these, we will cooperate in the development of space technology and independently realize participation in space in the development and participation of human resources from hole asia. The construction of the base and the development environment will carry out development and maintenance in the region in building relationships and cooperation with the universe, and participating in and cooperating with the universe.

Building relations with space requires the provision of technology and spacecraft, and realizes new participation in space and development in the region in cooperation with Asia, such as cooperation with military development.

They cooperate and participate, along with contracts for alliance documents with space.
