

Creation of a new world of philosophy

Kuroda International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

The demand for a new world is the creation of a new world in philosophy. Resolving all contradictions and suffering demands a new world and future. Since people do not want to be subordinate to all hypocrisy and lies, those revolutions gain the creation of a new world.

These are battles for the future, and the winner will get the future. Philosophy has these developments in the West and the East. Maintaining existing reality denies a new revolution.

The solution in all justice proves the correctness of the philosophy.

Is it possible for people to follow the reality of hypocrisy? The justice to own as proofed with reality is equal to having the world forever.

These are the conflicts of eternally with youth.

The word of truth and the world give it permanence to its infinity.

These are the correct understandings in politics. This is because history has made this conflict eternal.

The fact that justice has a world is a proof of its correctness. Reality is the only an answer forever.

The king's 100% support from the people proves the correctness of the politics. Being 0% is a Western allegorical naked king.

There is always new social progress. These sociological advances are the only Western-based ones.

Advances in anthropology are the improvement of self-understanding and enable a new world.
