

Creation of new generations

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

We have a new era with new technology. We may ask all potentials to create the future.

Based on academics, to reconstruct all its environment, the nation may be renewed, and society and life may differ from any history.

This is an accurate description of the next society from Mr. Drucker. All industries sift to new generations under political presence.

Space participation must be required as same as in Hollywood movies. Do you know why? This is a new generation.

Political consensus has all possible to realize the all since politics lead the future.

Finally, we reach the future; we have a long journey in the past because we have all new technology to create a new world.

New social systems are possibly given as basic income even all reality we have as IoT revolution.

Society 5.0 is the standard bases of the new future. Any transportation and communication system must be invested under the new standard to ask for any infrastructure.

All these are under new progress of any academics. So urgently, we must prepare for any environment,

These are the age of the new dream. We have a new agreement on zero-emission. The world is in the change, which means we have to change.

For any truth, politics have all decisions for those, and they can build new realities.
