

East meet west

Kuroda International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

Eastern root and cultures meet western reality. That is new conversation of civilizations. Any potentials are with any cooperation of self.

All these differences cause new possibility to the futures. There are different understanding of bases gives all new possibilities to the world.

These conversations are explanations of own identity. This is anew that is not govern by western ideology but seek new possibilities.

There is a different philosophy that is needed to be explained from. We may reach new possibility that is surely promised.

Asking any confession could see each other. Bases we can see for each that construction of own logics.

New dawn is share for each to seek the futures.
