Economic Security and Reality Consideration

Kuroda International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

The world shifts to the final war. These overture are the division of the world in the economy, and the separation, gathering and dispersal form their individual groups. The world seeks reality, with a clear behind-the-scenes speculation.

They consider that the formation of individual groups in the world in the economy is divided into the NATO Union and the Russian-Chinese Union. But when it comes to insight, this is the formation of reality in the New World Order, the transition to World War III in the United Nations advertising tower.

However, they can seek the formation of the third pole. Dividing from security and military alliances in its own economy and war, participation in the world in reconciliation forms the third pole in the world and gains new participation in own step of reconciliation with the world.

This forms equality in the world with military and space technology, industry and capital, academicity and politics, and by making self-selection along with the transition of the reality, it forms self-presence together with cooperation with space.

Obtaining public opinion can make proposals for a new world to the world in the disclosure of information and the uprising of the revolution.

These are new possibilities, proposing in their own power to join the world in military alliances and industrial security and own market closures, capital base formation and space collaboration.
