

Administrative obligations to people's lives

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

The responsibility of the politics to the lives of people together with the local politics calls for the responsibility of providing basic livelihoods to all people. Resolving poverty in vulnerable groups requires an agreement to move to basic income and provide a clear and standard life for all.

These are human rights, and the guarantee of a basic life for all people can be done as a new agreement in the politics as well as the obligation to work.

Due to all poor and weak must equally need all its social environment that is with political duty. Basic lives must be needed with all peoples as change of today with all technological and academical progress.

These are the new philosophy to ask new world as to conquer all problems of history.