Create the future

Demand for equal presence in the world

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

Building equality in military power, space technology and the environment, capital, industry, academia, society, and life makes it possible to build an equal self-presence with the world. In the reality of the world, their participation is to build equality and to get equal participation.

In politics, these are required to understand and build reality. They are not equal on self, but they can also be equal in their realization on the basis of diplomacy and alliance.

Since the reality of the world cannot leave the reality from power politics, building equality exists only with a reality.

These are the ideas that the world strategy can present the future and hope to the masses and unite the world with voluntary participation, which is a new idea for democracy and humanitarianism in liberal group. philosophy can present a new ideal for their ideas.

These are the building of equality in power and philosophy. In this, we have participation in the world, and in the severe world of reality, participation in fantasy is impossible.

These philosophies can be accepted in the world and present a new reality and future to the world.

These are the establishment of the correct national strategy in the nation. Political plans make it possible.
