

New economic system

Kuroda International

Takeshi Kuroda

With the highest technology and production, the system must cover the world. We may count who passed and who failed.

All wealth is only a condition we may participate in the new world as economic systems.

The existing system must have failed, but a new world order could ask for their world. That means a new elite and wealth could ask for the new world.

These are a world reconstruction, and any government must decide with all elite.

To consider existing reality as a new future, we may find who is asking for the new future.

There is a top trend in business and lives, but who must fail and pass that we have to know.

WASP is a law of the world. Only we may know if we see any political reality calculating in the future.

Must be more than any competitor must be failed. But who is trying to proper the world?

Does United Nations ask the world government who is accepted in the new world?

There is a free trade system, but who is trying to seek its victory under competition in a free economic system?

We are trying to go against and equally ask for the reality.
