Participation in world politics

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

The reality of the world is all about the possession of the world behind and the construction of the world in justice, the capital and military, and the presence in industry. This is only condition to ask equal participation. This is a power game. There are clearly winners and losers. The winner has everything, and the loser follows it. This reality is everything.

These must call for the establishment of a nation to create an equal environment and ensure independence in diplomacy. Since capital and technology, military power and political power are the reality of the world, building equality alone gives independence.

The reality is that the liberal world and other battles have existed from World War I to the present. The truth behind it is no longer the choice to follow, even in Sudan, North Korea, Iran, Iraq, Cuba, Syria and Afghanistan.

The last fort, the People's Republic of China, is nothing more than trick. These are justice, nothing more than mass incitement, and handling with reality is the only choice.

The cutting edge of the world has the creation of new civilizations in the cutting-edge technology of politics, and following them has become the only choice in the world.

These make it possible for participation in the world in a new idea to give reality, as well as public acceptance.
