

KURODA International

Create the future

World trends and the reality of the future

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

Changes in the world will shift to after-corona with social transformation, changes in social consciousness, and deterioration of national finance in the corona vortex. People's consciousness has a clear change and has reality with the advent of new technological civilizations.

The siege to the People's Republic of China is exactly the same as Japan before World War II, and they should give a new world situation. These have a claim of justice and criminality, and a plan behind them. Together with justice, they have the reality of shifting to the unification of the world.

The new future can no longer be denied in reality. New technology and reality in the military, participation in space in space development, the arrival of a new society in next-generation technology, these have different worlds at present and have a new future.

The superpower of the United States is the success of the planning of its nation-building, and stands out in its content in society, administration, universities, and the military. Their claim that they are liberal, a nation of autonomy, and an axis of evil against the reality of control is partially correct.

These have a brilliant understanding behind them, which is superior to a childish understanding. They have one truth in reality, the end of history. They allow superpowers in capital and technology to have an eternal presence in the nation that has never existed in history.

The reality of the elite in reality is just a dream, and the world has no choice but to follow it.