To the reality of the world

The world seeks an end in its power game. This is the end of history. The reality is the conflict in possession of all the powers of the New World Order and the Illuminati in the world and elsewhere. History has an end after the war.

The consideration for these is that power has completely back into the Illuminati in the fact that history has deception. This is that human weakness and deception have given them the world, and in truth it cannot be denied at all.

Because all the powers are exactly the same as them.

This is the end of the correct history, as the Illuminati absorbed the deception of human beings.

Tyrant uses hypocrisy to maintain his power. They are more inhumane than all. These past tyrants created all the suffering.

If these are Armageddon, never get involved.
