

Problem and solution

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

The new reality of the computer age opens up infinite possibilities for the future. Fostering the foundation for its development is urgently needed. In addition, these give breakthrough progress to society and life, and the change provides progress beyond imagination. These are the existence of changes in the military and space technology industries. Their response and a clear foundation of understanding of politics are the only ones that allow them to participate in reality. Its cutting-edge in the United States, along with the free economic system, requires a significant overhaul of its social system in that it realizes the creation of a new reality with its new vitality. The new standard in the economic environment is the only condition for participation, and the decision to build a business is the only requirement to reach its cutting edge. This is the truth that the formation of domestic industry and the army in security is required independently, and these require the creation of revolutionary reality changes in politics. Consensus and understanding in politics is the only condition for participation in the future, as these need a transformation of the social system. It is a political mission for all to participate in the future, which requires the construction of a new nation.

American reality has its comfortable life and future creation. On the other hand, there is poverty and decadence. These two realities cannot be contrasted. This dichotomy is always true. There is also a state owner and no self-control in politics. These are distortions, and the choice of solution can be imagined as brutal.

Nationalism despises the people. Humanitarianism can seek a good society.

Relief for the vulnerable always requires the principle of equality. We seek to build a society in the absoluteness of equality.

The hierarchy of wealth is a mistake made by capitalism.

The world always has mistakes. It is not ideal. It requires all people to take responsibility and resolve the reason for the error of suffering.

Proposal of a new social system for barrier-free and participation of all people that is credo with us KURODA INTERNATIONAL

Creating a world without suffering

All these above for any mentioned are under the creation of new reality by calculation by any academic progress. Since all academics can recreate and create anything new and suitable.

In any nation field, even region must be constructed by all theoretical calculations. It is the necessity of modern and recent ages. Politics lead for all.