

Shift into the new technological civilization

Office of
KURODA International Consulting
Takeshi Kuroda

These are decisions we are forwarding to the future from the past. Politics makes itself with new measures to rebuild a society.

All new space participation and space technology must remove into society as new energy makes a new world.

You have to know that all technology gives us full use in life. We are in the middle of all revolution, which still has a future to the undivine future.

Education and academic center is the bases of the creation of new technologies. That means we may create the future to prepare for its environment.

Society needs itself under new infrastructure and communication infrastructure. These are suitable investments for the future.

This is not a great reset but a shift to the future.

What does it mean as all children have themselves voiceless? On the other hand, we may seek the world with all smiles of children.

What is a dream? The dream is the most profound voice with the truth.

A hopeless world is a world with darkness.