

Society 5.0

Kuroda International LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

Automation car control is given with new navigation system. On the road with transmitter that provide digital information of any places. That control automation driving. These have any control with IT assistant. Transmitter send any information and all rader capture them and make any control with navigation system.

Construction of town that is with any IOT communication infrastructure. Any data are hosted by cloud system and access and gives any use themselves.

Smart home is all connected with data high way and asking any service under IOT and Internet.

Office and building are worked by new machinery under any uses under IOT infrastructure. All IT system is any bases of those.

All government is worked under IT system and connected with all data by IOT.

ID card unify any membership of services and shared by cell phone. This gives unified all access to Society 5.0.

These are standardized any standard of realities and services. All media service and communication service are unified under IOT and any data is hosted by cloud.

There is all necessity to unify new and existing IOT and Internet service under same standard.

Industry 4.0 is changing to all machinery production with IT control. All new efficiency gives price advantage.

These are political plan to reconstruct own region and asking whole cooperation with any business companies.

Society 5.0 ask under low cost spending that existing technology with a whole use. These are made to be simple with unified system and same standard.

A new transportation system with hyperloop and new energy with airplane that those are core of new society.

Those are with new education system and harmony with a nature that new lives environment of all use of technologies and systems.

Bases with IOT infrastructure gives home education and working systems as video system as new equipment.

All these new life systems under regional government offer that flex participation to new society.

These gives new possibility with a world. That permit to seek whole new future and self.