The necessity the world has is not all the rich goes to more fabulous in their future , but for all children in Gaza Strip and all who lose their hand or foot in Ukraine. We believe that by supporting them, they can still possess their life and the future, and even contribute to society in meaningful ways.

All these could be a proper consensus we should share with the world through International Society.

To build a new society, livelihoods may be given to all these peoples, and the world must work for those under all agreement and shared ideas.

But all conflicts ask for a new conflict; those can not give the world any solution. These are the proofs that we need new philosophies.

This is why we are trying to propose new world systems and frameworks. The choice is a new reality we will encounter in the future. So, we continuously insist that politics always has decisions in the future.

If all these new world consensuses could ask for a new world, we could share new rules and systems in any society or nation. Standardization is all the hobit of the liberal camp, where we find all the same values in globalization, but we could take steps and implement all our ideas in the future.

To seek in all history, we find all the tragedies of peoples and all the wealth of all kings. But we faced revolution in the 20th Century by the United States of America. We have to know it was a people's revolution.

We are in the 21st Century now. We have all new technology, the Industrial Revolution, and society seeks new systems using computers. And we still have a future. This is why we insist choice always makes new futures.
