If we want to start the world with new visions, we need all talent who design and make a new world itself,

The key word is hope, which we can share with the world. And realize them in a new world.

Instead, we have all the reality of the world, which contains a new world order. But if we could propose a new vision and design of the world, how much difference we may find with the world?

The righteous world comes only from the righteous self. This is why we must gather all talent and human resources.

And as I told you, hope is any agreement we could share to rebuild the world itself.

It may appear in contrast to reality, but we have new visions and hopes for you.

Righteous political actions only make it possible to create the right world, and we must agree with it by conscience.

These actions are against all of the reality we have in the world. We can have discussions with people from all over the world.

These are the proposals to gather all talent, agree on all realities, and agree on and share the new consensus of the world.

These are the right decisions for all beings to recreate the world itself.

We have a decision to make the world new. And these are the attitudes of all politics to take any responsibility for the world.
