

The world and decisions

Kuroda International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

Only facing with any realities, we can find all. New world order is only a reality we may find. Any steps may not be avoided from it.

The world is covered but nothing with the others. There is all history and we may find that this is choice of the world.

Due to only standing with a reality we could live and seek any.

Seeking a war that we could ask only to be with a reality.

If asking new vision against new world order, how the world react against it?

These 2 divines of the world even with standing for army forces each of self.

2 separations could show own justice to the world.

Only if disclose all its information how the world reacts against it.

World has own decision. Bases upon any histories to the futures.

Who could judge any reality but the futures?
