

United Nations General Assembly in September

Office of
KURODA International consulting
Takeshi Kuroda

It's the final game. All decisions of the world we are trying to seek within.

We may ask for a decision to expand with the disclosure that comes to all tails. All new realities must govern the coming future.

There are all votes by all nations, and we must insist on a new world.

That comes us an idea that we may ask for its decision. To ask for your speech, any agreement comes with a world decision.

Seriousness and honesty are the only things that make the future possible.

If we could make a complete agreement of all nations that come from any speech, we are trying to create a new future. That is faced by all reality that we know.

We need a new vision for the world that we, KURODA International consulting, had tried.

This comes only, and the last opportunity we may ask for it's a challenge.

We are given this opportunity by open conference. That means all tails of any disclosure may work for a purpose.