

Victory called creativity

KURODA International

We see all new movements from the USA that we must understand their creativity is all future of the world. On the other hand, forced labor may not ask for his creativity to reach the final moment of the world.

Under the IoT movement, we have a revolution of lives. We put ourselves in revolutionary change today.

These are all from the creativity of reality by all new ventures. Facing all these truths, we may not ignore the USA and its national environment.

We know that they have their trust called freedom. It accepts all new creations of reality as its national plan. A free economic system creates all new facts that we need to know.

Under free trade systems, how could we expect the future? I come under Liberalism of its justice of the world.

We are trying to be wise to know that creativity is all bases of progress in history. And waiting for us for new futures.

That's what I mean by victory called creativity. We expect a new future under technology and system as all new realities experience us.

Next, out of any doubt, waiting for space ages. As we may know, the next society is all reality we put ourselves in today.

But the decision by politics may change the world, and if all creation asks it properly, the world must change itself.

We have to be wise. Only we may ask for reality, and only we may work for reality.
