Military analysis has a comparison in cutting-edge and space technology. The main military forces are NATO, the Russian Army, the PLA, the Indian Army, and other forces with self-development of advanced weapons, and the unity and consolidation of the armed forces seek equal self-confrontation with the world in military power.

The formation of the Asian unity will consolidate the forces of the Air Force and the Army, cooperate with the world in diplomacy, and build equality to the world in military power.

Cooperation with Russia can be sought first. Cooperation with South America presents the potential for army base coordination and weapons sharing in terms of geographic factors.

Discussions at the UN Permanent Council and information disclosure at open conferences will clarify one's legitimacy to the world, and will carry out the revolution in the world together with information disclosure with the full participation of intelligence agencies.

The confrontation with the New World Order presents a new world vision for reconciliation and unity, and bilateral cooperation for all nations.

Any ICBM are all bases of above actions.
