Create the future

Handling to all realities

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

New world order is only a reality we can find with the world. Handling to its reality that only we can find the futures.

Only permission to ask the futures may standing to face all details of plan. What they have is every reality of the world that is all reasons.

Standing to the world is facing to all their forces. And any strategies only a permission.

To be in touch with reality may ask any possibility to cooperate govern or share any realities. Due to see equal living right.

One difference is they have a world. So that asking any contacts bases with own independence require this understanding.

There is world design that is all realities but that is all owned be them. According to these we could ask own decision.

There is acceptance with amount of our requirements. So that all business conversation may be considered bases with deeply own considering.

All negotiations may permit under understanding of their world may not be denied.
