Consideration for the United States, Great Britain, and Israel

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

Unquestionable consideration of the world's top presence requires a correct understanding of its reality.

Information gathering and analysis capabilities at the CIA, MI6, and Mossad and state analysis at the Department of State are the viable foundations for maintaining these top presences in Britain, continuing from the 20th century and the British Empire in the American era.

Private political organizations in Washington, DC, assist their top presence in politics.

The US military, Roswell 13, Majestic 12, and NASA are the realities that make up the reality of the world.

These realities give them the control of the world.

Boeing, Intel, Microsoft and other world majors have a complete monopoly on the key industries of the new era of cutting-edge industries.

The advanced technology and equipment of the US military has already made the reality of the next generation a reality.

Advances in basic research at universities advance their nation into the future.

These condition with reality give self-ownership in the world, and the same criteria for participation in the world are the only conditions for participation.

Since these are realities, participation in reality, which is not mass-guided in politics, must only build equality bases with them.

All of this is done by human resources, which is the foundation of education and universities in academic progress, so education always gives the nation as a result.
