

Smart paper

Digitization of all documents provides services and applications in existing formats. We provide magazines, books, newspapers, document making, business use, educational materials, postal mail, etc. in a unified format and application.

These can be provided with zero existing delivery costs in the communication environment of IOT. Sending by e-mail address eliminates junk e-mail by accepting reception on condition that the e-mail address is registered.

Browsing in the application provides all documents such as storage, dictionaries, markings, etc. with different usage environments. These can standardize and provide a browsing environment for PCs, smartphones, and tablets.

By unifying all document environments, it is possible to propose a new unification of lifestyle in IOT.

Digital Pen and electronic pads, etc. will establish a new electronic, unified environment for document software and propose new living styles.