the truth of continuation

Kuroda International
Takeshi Kuroda

Any reality can be realized through planning and action. This is because the accumulation of each step makes any reality possible.

Therefore, companies and nations can realize their dreams and ideals through planning and action. It is true that limitation is an excuse and belief that breaks rock promises all achievements.

"To have an ideal is to move towards it." All actions give reality. Therefore, the plan always promises to be realized.

Therefore, the decision belongs to the ruler, who gives the nation and the future.

"It's true that everything is possible." Possibilities exist in every moment and reality.

A determination is a guideline for the future. This strong determination gives reality and enables the convergence of reality.

In continuation, continuing to do so is progressing toward the goal.

Broad insight enables correct judgment and can create an ideal reality.

Anything that is possible is realized through understanding and action.

"They can give you challenges and dreams." Achieving a dream is the result of effort and action.
