Create the future

Immobilization of the reality of the world and the future in the siege against China

KURODA International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

I think that the reality of the world seeks the future, along with the conflict between the absolute and Western justice to China. These are the end of war in history in the world in modern technological progress.

These are the advances in self-consideration in the West, as justice in the world, seeking their conflict and struggle.

The reality of humanity, the diversity of new societies and technological civilization, along with the uprising of justice in the United Nations, eliminates evil in the world.

These nations that do not follow Western justice equally have the Russian Republic.

On the other hand, it has the reality of the Illuminati and the New World Order.

This is clearly the world's call for the end of history.

In reality, contact with the universe shifts to the final phase.

The victor has the world as a king.

These are the realities of history and their demise.

These are the kings competing for the possession of the world and seeking its end.
