

A new future called wars and decisions that we are forced

April 24th, 2024

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

The Middle East and the Far East have conflicts that could expect wars in the future.

We are obliged to make the necessary decisions. This is not a choice but a responsibility we bear.

Peace may be any agreement we could propose to international society. All these are the proposals of the world without wars.

We see any tragedy in the history. That is all caused by the wars. Then we have a choice and decisions.

We are trying to propose a new consensus for international society and invite everyone to a new world of peace.

We can share all responsibility and any obligations to the world and the future. These are the righteous relationships of the whole world.

All these are the proper steps we can take to put ourselves into the world and the realities.

The presence of the Western camp means that they take full responsibility for the world. So, we are trying to share them with them.

If the international society agrees on the unification of the world, we can see all changes in reality.

Who may have hope for the future? That means we need all our efforts.

Politics has all the world's decisions; that is why they are the kings. King may determine the world, even the future.

