

The agreement called for responsibility for the people

February 4th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

International society and any nation could ask for an agreement called responsibility for the people.

These are the duties of politics, and making new consensus must change all world realities.

The ideal of humankind is a world without pain and suffering. And we have progressed in academics and technology. We can change the world if the world agrees on all new consensus.

Abolishing wars may be the unification of the world that we could propose and insist on.

We have a choice, and it may make the future. The world tries itself forward all darkness.

But hope is the only direction we find in the darkness. And we are trying to yell a new world to all our reality with a world.

The change is only from a self of being. How many hopes do we have in the world? And we all know any reality we have with a world. How could we find all duty for the people? And we propose all new agreements and responsibilities.

The ideal is not child play but our only hope. That is all the remarks we need for our actions. We propose a new consensus of international society and politics. That is a light and the way we may follow ourselves in the future.

Darknight is all reality we have in the world. But we need a way to the future as we have proposed all descriptions to the world from our office. We are asking for your consideration.

For the last who dare to take all responsibility for all children. That is all doubt we have about the world.