Humanity is all common and the same agreement by a human. That means we could agree on any reality, even with any confusion.

There are conflicts and wars, crime, and historical misunderstandings. But humanity could give a solution to its agreement by its common.

That gives us the idea that we are seeking a new world. We may believe that humanity's decision is as same for all. That means we could make more than any agreement by any realities, even with a future.

There is a United Nations Commission on Human Rights that we may share with all.

There are conflicts and problems even in the future, but if the world could make a complete agreement with humanity. We may imagine a new world even with new dreams.

Let's try our challenge with that. There must be a problem in the world and past under any calculation by humanity. We may seek the same agreement in reality, then.

There must be all failures of the reality we may find as mistakes of the world. How may we yell the justice against?

There must be more than any tears we find in the world and past. Humanity's agreement could solve them all and share life and the future.
