All the highest technology to ask for a next society

KURODA International Consulting
Takeshi Kuroda

We have all evolutional changes in all new technologies and systems. We may wonder about the book by Mr. Peter Drucker. Next society is created by all new technology with new social systems.

These are required with political presence and consensus. There is full use with all IT revolutions. And Europe and USA are seeking to reconstruct themselves.

We may determine our society and life with all use of new systems. Political decisions may pass to all bureaucrats, and plans may give a contemporary society and life.

The truth is that we are under reconstruction of society with computers. Standardized IT system is all core infrastructure in the new society.

New technological civilization is the truth of the future. And we have further participation in the universe. That comes to a new reality we have today.

Advanced industries and government-owned space technology are real. We have a complete necessity to reach all these conditions.

These require all political lead and consensus. We may not be dropped from all these changes.

That gives a new elite in all reality in advance. But all their standard must be required to self.

We may expect the future in all these changes and new energy. We need a tail of ourselves as a zero-emission society.

We have to be realized that the next society is valid with the reality we may have today, and the future is not denied as we have with all new changes in any field of realities.

These forces us to change all our ideas from the past to the future. All new standards change under the new agreement to any field of nations.

KURODA International