The world has its truth, and these are the realities that all circumstances of the world follow. And they have their dreams in their futures.

And if we try to seek any realities, we can't be away from all truth. And we have no doubt that no one can stand against it.

We have only permission to put ourselves into a reality, but we can't dream of it.

These are how we are trying to create our realities. And we need our basis of reality, which may put us into reality itself.

And there are all realities above in the sky, which means all residents of the universe may make their own decisions.

These are all calculations of how we may find the way of hope. We have to know what they have. And these are all the disappointments of the world without any hope.

But the only thing we can be sure of is that a righteous world can only be from righteous persons. These are how we are trying to gather any talents from any regions of the world.

There must be all the tricks we have to know. These are the results of all media but the truth by Langley.

Military and industry, with their amount of capital, may cover and possess the world. But these are only possibilities we have to stand equally to them.

These are all dialogues and our efforts on how we may stand in the world and the future. And we may have a few ideas for the world.
