

Any confusion that may be found in the world

December 4th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

Conflict may divide the world into a new future. However, we have a new world vision that all nations can share, and it may be a new world agreement.

It may propose new world designs and visions. Conflict may be only solved by justices under army forces. But we could offer all its agreement at our volunteer.

The world must be fixed to a new world. All these are based on new systems and frameworks, which should be included in any argument and discussion in its agreements.

A new world vision is the proper way to face reality and the world. We must insist on taking on all new responsibility so that the world can share itself.

All new possibilities come from peace, not from conflict, and these are the latest creations of the world, made possible by new technologies.

These are the capacities of new diplomacy, which is a new topic of discussion worldwide. New bilateral agreements can be a global foundation.

In a world of war and conflict, it is undoubtedly possible to propose a new world order that outlaws all war and a new disarmament agreement.

New possibilities for the future indeed exist. These are the possibilities of new technologies.

Then, we may have a new argument with all nations, which should ask for an agreement on the new world.

And these are the reality of all politics, which should be reconsidered by international society with a new consensus.

All these may be dreams and ideals that we may find in the future.