They propose a cease-fire with an end to the history of all wars in the world.

These agreements call for an agreement to abolish war in the world and propose a truce on both sides.

These extend to the international community and seek agreement to abolish war.

Along with that, we will realize the dissolution of all the military and the transition to the Earth Defense Force, and will make it a self-declaration to the new space age.

These divert huge military expenditures to the development of new social infrastructure, and these share the construction of a new society and life in Society 5.0 in the world.

These agreements also propose an agreement for world unity, which will lead to the establishment of a united government and new cooperation in the world.

The lofty hope of the future promises a future for all children.

They seek to cosmic self-declaration in earthly representatives, they share limitless possibilities, and promise to create new futures into the reality of the future.

These new commitments to all beings on Earth offer to cooperate in new possibilities for their future.

They renounce all conflict and achieve unity in their reconciliation.

A shared responsibility for the future of our children is what all politicians have agreed to and promised to create a new world.
