

Asian union

July 30th, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

To address the world's realities, we propose unifying Asia to meet the same next-generation standards across all aspects.

Unification of any standard can be based on its new infrastructure and industries, just as we can unify all military bases.

These alliances may gain a new consensus and agreement among all nations in the region, and their promises are with shifting to the next society in any reality of the area.

These agreements will address future changes in reality based on the alliance, and will mutually agree on the three countries' absolute obligation to defend themselves.

In addition, through economic cooperation, we will collaborate on developing each country's industries across all sectors, and we are committed to establishing our cutting-edge industries in all fields.

Education for children will be made compulsory up to university level, and all costs will be waived.

These alliances also share responsibility for the future of the world, offering a new vision and ideals that propose building relationships with the world based on harmony rather than conflict.

These also call for the utmost practicality in space development, and call for the development of new relationships with all of space, based on the establishment of treaties with space, and declare our participation in this effort.

These also represent a shared transition to the next generation in all realities, based on the sharing of new ideals and principles.