

Business and its progress

October 11th, 2024

Kuroda International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

All new systems and technology permit us to step into a new stage of business. We can find new efficiency and productivity that show a high profit rate in any business, which concerns all its progress over the ages.

Industry 4.0 and auto production with new IT systems that automate any business activity and show new cost standards for running any business.

With their growth, all these have gained a considerable profit rate. We must know there is a shift in any reality and business consensus.

Product and service standards change to a different standard, and the free economic system creates a new reality: the future.

These advancements and changes are placing demands on businesses in terms of better standards and products. It's imperative that companies not only meet these demands but also embrace leading-edge standards, as they are clearly the norm for the future. This should motivate us to be proactive in our approach.

These are opportunities for all to seek any possibility in the future. This is the dynamism of business today under its globalization of reality.

Reality is standardized in any region of the world. This is progress and advancement of technology and systems.

Ideas must be changed to all new creativity of reality. Anew is only from creativity and consideration of any creation. A detailed MBA system must cover the rest and permit us to put ourselves into the future.

These are the new challenges and actions to reach new possibilities of any realities. These are the changes and shifts to a new world.