

Capitalism

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

Capitalism changes everything in the capital. That is a rule, so the result is that money is only worth it.

The economy is under all its control. The competition follows the law. We now have new kings in the world.

If philosophy gives a world, what is the law of the world?

Song by Imagine with Mr. John Lennon, no possession is a dream.

If we are trying to seek ideals, what is all opinion against reality?

There is communism. We now know that we had their ideals in the world.

Under Capitalism, there is possible to own the world under capital. These are the irony that we have today.

There is all socially valuable, but all solutions are from the capital because they may solve all poor.

There is love, but people are away from it and seek wealth as I could consider that the world could ask for its decision.