

Changing Military Maps in the International Community and New World Realities

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

The depletion of weapons in the Russian Armed Forces is a reality. This makes the cold war change into a new reality. China is the last emperor that the world has.

All powers today are tyrants, and Western humanitarian justice has its challenges. All these show a flawless victory of the liberal camp. But we only have to know that there is a tail of theirs called Illuminati.

Changing the dynamic map of the world should be the final judgment of the reality of China. How the justice of Western humanitarianism holds judgment must be its decision.

There is a power game in the world that we have to know. After all, we are facing all wealth of western camp that is all true.

And the future may not be rejected, and we must know who is seeking the future.

Clinging to the Western conscience should not be a choice. We need our future.

This must be a declaration of the creation of our reality. And we are seeking our decision in the future.

Equality is the only permission we may find a world. This comes for the unification of the whole of Asia.

There is an equal conversation with the western camp. We are trying to share the same future. That is a table, we would argue.