

Collapse of the economy and the building of new economic systems

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

We have a great reset in the coming future. We find a new economic system under the collapse of reality.

We need to make a new rule with its systems under our proposal. We are trying to make all our realities.

We have the potential to create any reality by ourselves. We could even propose a new world to the world.

These are the revolution from their world to our world. We are trying to propose our world to the world.

We could propose Fair rules to be gathered in any reality. We are trying to stand against the world.

The world is trying to fail itself in reality. And we could propose ours.

These are the creations of the new world as they seek. We need a step forward into their world to our world.

There is no way we could escape from all these realities. But as we propose any ideas, we need a future.

We could make our laws into our world. My last word comes: we need to step forward to reach hope and the future.
