

Collapse of the world

November 14th,2023

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

The world can not hold itself that may seek for its collapse. Financial and military collapse and conflict must ask for the future itself.

We must see a new world. That is what we have to face.

We have our necessity to settle our reality to face the coming change. The world is under control. That must be all and what we have to prepare for.

Power games ask for a result with finance, military, and industry.

If we face the world equally, we may find a way to hope. That must be all our effort for our future.

Any country must take steps into the new world to expand its vision to the whole world. That means even one can not be away from all coming change.

If we seek for the future, we need our decision. That is the only permission we have with the world.

There must be new concerns with the universe; they must have a purpose for the earth. That is what we can work for.

And we may ask for all agreement by most nations. We could take the majority of them, and we could ask for our realities.

Then, we could ask for our world against any realities we have here on the earth.

This must be a proper idea to face any reality we have in the world today. If we have any possibilities, we have to work for that.