All these realities cause winners and losers. Anyone with a victory is permitted occupation of any realities.

We find a wealth of reality as livelihood under all these results, and they have a base they could seek for the future.

On the other hand, any tyrant may seek for their profit. And their people spend themselves in suffering and pain.

As we find, history is a competition, and we have a result called a reality.

These are any presence we find in reality.

To consider any history that is filled up with wars. And all conscience of the West and the USA that permit lives in any nations. And it covered the world under his justice.

We may find grace in the victory in history. He deserves to decide the world.

But there is a decision to see all people. Under all those realities In history, they only spent themselves in pain and tears.

So we have a decision called conscience. These are the ideas of humanity and ideals.

These may be a proper proposal to all world leaders.

We insist on a new world and asking for any conversation with the world. As I find, we need a future.

As we can say, hope is the only direction in which we find a future as the past.
