

Conflict and the world

March 18th, 2026

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

Humanity must find all solution of the histories. Survival principles had been everything in the past, and we still have all the habits in any reality today.

And we have all new dialogue which may be away from all current customs.

There are the idea which we are sharing same world and its unification. These are how we can recreate the world.

Dialogue is any key that may open doors in the future. If we can find any cooperation, they may give new realities.

In all histories we have had all conflicts, but we must have all learnings from the past to recreate the world in the future.

We may reach the same ideas by all nations. And these are any vision of the future that we can share of itself.

These are all remarks that all humanity must face seriously.

All new arguments must not cause any conflict, but under all Dialogue in Reason.

In the international society, we have to ask who can give new ideas to be away from all the same habits of the past, but for a new future.

It may be only a little change, but a new reality may expand and cause a new world then.

We find all new hopes today, and the young generation may not always accept current realities.