

Considering Hyperinflation

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

Judgment of corporate strength and constitution gives the two divisions. There are waiting for new societies and systems with contemporary reality.

Capital strength may ask for new possibilities with new technology and systems.

These have a recession and a distribution in national finances, selecting winners and losers.

Peoples have difficulty with their finance. That gives reality as asking for all national financial environment. This is divined with 2 for all truth of the world.

But we are suggested to belong with winners. It is proof that company effort is rightly given the reality of self.

New technology and systems create a future that we do not doubt. With Hyperinflation and national finance decisions, we may seek our own business.

These are the construction of new economic system and distribution, industry its systems. Based on capitalism, the world seeks a new method of self.

The new production system and the new economy have created new futures. These are moving to the new world.

As competition principles are asking self-adjustment to the new reality.

There is permission you have to know to participate in a new stage of the economy.

There are new technologies under all Hyperinflation to see own profit with. On the other hand, there are who must leave from the market.