

Contribution of Western roots to the world

Kuroda International

Takeshi Kuroda

All peace and justice are from Western roots. That only we may find with the world today.
All are thrown away own responsibility but profits.

To require same responsibility with all nation to be participated with the world new that we are sharing the world and futures.

This is true fairness we may share the world.

We may dream a new world that who makes own word to the world.

We could imagine that all variety that we have in all different roots and identity we may seek same futures.

There must be a tail of the world even that we could try to discuss the world.

Any possibilities are as dream that we may try.

There is description from bible called millennium that Western roots bases with Christianity.

That means we all have own decision to the world. That I know is decision is a world and futures.
