

Correction of social disparity and creation of the new world

November 17th, 2023

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

We find all the gaps that deny participation of the socially vulnerable. The world has a logic of the strong since competition is a reality of the world.

Equality and new socialism could base a society that allows all participation. The society goes to new generation standards as society 5.0, digitalized realities, and industry 4.0.

All reality may shift to new generation standards as we see all efforts today. And they give us a future as we may expect ourselves.

Politics must be needed for all new consensus to create a new world. And the decision gives them the truth.

New law and logic may base all these realities, which is fully necessary.

Any people may not be excluded from the future. As we see, this is the proper consensus of all politics. And it must be the right effort of them.

All these are the right ideas to face the future since new technological civilization is a promise of the world.

University and all academics may base them all, and industry create all new world. So, politics need all these idea and consensus to make all its decisions.

And all new space development expands any possibility for us. We have all new realities today.

Unification of the world could seek unified government. We could share the future under all these decisions.

All politics must seek them to be heroes. Only then can we find the future.