Takeshi Kuroda

Paradise is an ideal we may try with a new world. These is a reality that is called power politics and tails of control.

There is all suffers but with progress of technology and academics we may find all solutions. There are ideas call dreams as we may seek with a new world.

As you may imagine that the world is filled up with disappointments or hopes. There is a full circulation for a world today.

Technology has all creation of dreams but capitalism may not permit for all.

There is a worth to pay an effort. That is a way to reach the dream. It is a choice with an excellent self.

All wealth occupies the world. All these realities are forwarding to change with new technology and systems.

Economy is occupied by capital and technologies. There must be an owner of the world.

All new space technology could give us a new idea for the future.

Dream must not be occupied with limitations but we may ask own dreams to the world with own freedom.
