

Dialogue and cooperation

January 28th, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

We have only one way to seek any realities. That comes with all dialogue to share any agreement and ideas that will affect the world's future.

Any international principle may shift to recreate the world under a new world consensus, which can only result from dialogue.

All these are conversations through the progress of all academics that permit us to recreate the world.

These equal standing points allow us to stand against all reality of the world as an international society.

Under all new realities, we have new cooperation with the world, which allows us to recreate the world itself.

Staying away from national interests and sharing all new responsibilities for the world may cause us to find a new reality by making everything new.

Dialogue may be how we may reach the future; on the other hand, we have all power games, which cause all its conflicts.

Any basis of conscience makes it possible to converse with the world, and this principle connects the globe with international society.

All these can potentially improve any world reality, even cause the new world itself.

We can propose to make agreements with all world nations, which is a promise of the future.

These are the realities of all politics that must lead the world.