

Dialogue may solve all.

May 27th, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

Under any conscience of the world, we may share all new ideals of the world, which may only come from new dialogues.

Under all these circumstances, we may share our understandings and learnings and create a new agreement, which may lead to new world principles.

These are the challenges that we are tasked with seeking in the future. How can all new talents be gathered in seeking new world visions?

Therefore, we are seeking support from all world leaders. And under all its opportunities, we may propose a new world to all world citizens.

And then we may ask who has ideas? We are in the midst of a new era of academics.

These are the redesigning of the world that contains all hopes for the future. These are the reasons we need all new talents.

And unlimited possibilities lie right before us, called the future. We are not subject to all the new changes of reality today. We may explain them as we go from history to the future.

Who may not lose his word? If so, he can yell all his ideas to the world.

We may wonder how and what the dialogue may reveal to us about the world. Solution and agreement may be the world's future.

The power game must be over, with all new dialogue. And these are the visions that we find in a new world.

All politics may join and seek new realities through all their dialogues.